

2014 ARTIST RESIDENCY PROGRAM

ROUGH DRAFT APPLICATION

Please email this application form and any additional supporting materials to roughdraft@dramaleague.org. Applications will only be accepted electronically.

Rough Draft allows directors to explore the earliest stages of a project or idea in a one-day residency in The Drama League Theater Center's Lane/Comley Studio Lab.

NOTES

- The applicant must be the Director attached to the project.
- Applications are accepted year-round. Applicants will be notified of status by e-mail.
- Rough Draft includes eight hours of rehearsal and public presentation space ONLY. Please be aware that there is no on-site storage for sets, props, equipment, costumes, etc., and that the Drama League Theater Center's Lane/Comley Studio Lab has limited lighting and sound capability. Residencies are intended to be process-oriented; pieces with significant design components cannot be accommodated.
- The Drama League is not a theatrical producer, and therefore offers its residencies only to works still in need of development. Projects selected for development will not be produced by The Drama League itself, nor will contracts be executed with any persons, unions, or organizations beyond its relationship with the Director Applicant.
